

How do we make an impact?

An aerial photograph showing a massive glacier with a textured, blue-tinged surface. The glacier flows into a wide, greyish-brown river. In the foreground, there is a dense green forest. A white rectangular box is overlaid on the center of the image, containing the text "What did we achieve in 2015?".

An aerial photograph of a dry, cracked landscape, likely a desert or a drought-stricken area. The ground is a mix of reddish-brown and tan, with numerous deep, irregular cracks forming a complex network across the surface. Several large, dark, irregular shadows are cast across the ground, suggesting the presence of rocks or small structures. Scattered throughout the scene are numerous white, fluffy clouds of varying sizes, some appearing to be resting on the ground. The overall lighting is bright, creating high contrast between the dark shadows and the bright clouds.

How do we engage with stakeholders?

An aerial photograph of a dense forest of evergreen trees covered in a thick layer of snow. The trees are dark green and brown, contrasting with the bright white snow. The ground is a uniform light blue-grey color, suggesting a snowy or icy surface. In the center of the image, there is a white rectangular box containing the text "How do we implement our policies?".
